

Atlantic Electropise; Gentlemen—For the past five years my wife has been a sufferer from dyspopia. So completely did the disease make a wreck of her former self that life was almost despaired of. Her nervous system was almost entirely destroyed, and the slightest noise would throw her into a nervous spans, which would last for hours. Modiest while failed to bring any relief.

lief.

Through the recommendation of an eminent divine we were induced to try the Electropoise. After a persistent use of the instrument, the effect After a persistent use of the isstrument, the effect has been wonderful. Her nervous system has been restored to its almost normal condition; her digastion is wonderfully improved; she is rapidly gaining in flesh; and, upon the whole, is making a rapid recovery, which speaks volumes for the wonderful curative powers of the Electropoise, as her case was considered hopeless. If any are keptical on the subject, let them try the Electropoise, and its wonderful powers will quickly dispei all doubt. Yours truly, W. M. PEOPST.

A TAILOR'S TERBIBLE PLIGHT -A curious and perhaps fatal accident took place in Forty fifth street, New York, on Thursday moraing. A tailor named Christian Reichart went into his shop to clean a coat with benzine. He 'ooked the door after him and put the key in his pocket. By some mishap the benzine ignited and set his clothes on fire. He made an effort to put out the flames and to tear off his clothes, but he could not do so. He rushed through the store and made for the door, but he could not get the key out of his pocket, and seeing no other means of escape, he threw himself with all his might against the show-window of his store. The glass, which was about 9 feet high and 6 feet wide, broke with a crash and fell into the street. At the same time Reichardt, a living torch, laaded on the sidewalk. Two men who were passing, got a blanket and threw it around him, but it was all they could do to hold him down and smother the flames. Then they car ried him to a store and an ambulance was WIARD CHILLED PLOWS.
STEVENS' ARCHED FRAME SPRING-TOOTH ed about the arms and legs and body. He was removed to Bellevue Hossical. It is feared that he inhaled some flame, in which case he will probably die. Singularly Reichardt was not out by the glass. Not a scratch could be found on him. The flames in his shop were quickly put out by fireman.

SHOT AT FOR A COON .- When J : mes Duttor, wood chopper, went into the woods near Killingworth, Conn., to work on Saturday he wore a cap made of coon skir. At noon he sat down under a tree to eat his dinner, and just as he came to the dessert he jumped up and yelled like a maniac. Then he fall over and fainted. Ernest Wilcox, aged 17, had seen the cap, and the peculiar motion given to it by the working of Mr. Dutton's jaws led him to believe that he had got a chance at a real live coon in the daytime. and he fired at it. His aim was poor and only four small shot ploughed their way through the cap and made slight furrows in Mr. Dutton's scalp. He became conscious soon afterward, and an examination of his injuries showed that he was not hurt. He knecked off work, however, and went to the store and bought a soft black hat for wear in the woods. The woods are full of at No. short-sighted hunters.

THE COMING WINTER.-The for on wild anima's, thick shucks on corn, large persimmon crops, &o , &o , carry conviction to many that the following winter will be severe. But there is another indication which to us gives the contrary opinion. Every very severs winter, which we recall, commenced early. The later cold weather beglas the shorter time it lasts. If the summer heat is not frozen out of the earth befor the days begin to lengthen and the season takes a turn towards another summer, the fighting chances for a mild winter grow stronger every day. Nights of equal coldness in February and December will not make ice any where near as thick in the former month as in the latter, A very hard winter must begin not later than the 13th Steam Flooring & Planing Mill of November. The weather has been mild with the exception of the recent cold spell. - Warrenton Virginian.
